HOW SSHRC AWARDS ITS GRANTS

This publication lists new awards granted by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council during the 1999-2000 fiscal year.

SSHRC grants are awarded through an independent and highly competitive adjudication process in which committees of scholarly experts evaluate research proposals and recommend which projects Council should fund. The peer review process forms the cornerstone of a fair and effective system for ensuring that only the best research proposals receive SSHRC funding.

Each year, SSHRC program officers approach close to 8,000 researchers from Canada and other countries around the world to provide written evaluations of individual grant proposals. Their assessments are then submitted to the selection committees to assist them in determining which proposals merit funding.

SSHRC adjudicators and assessors are active researchers with demonstrated experience in their own discipline or area of specialization and solid knowledge of research activity as a whole.

More than 244 scholars meet every year to sit on one of 34 standard and strategic research grant selection committees to evaluate applications submitted in the annual national competitions for SSHRC funding.

This year's selection committees reviewed a total of 2,091 research and strategic grant applications from researchers at Canadian universities. Of those, only four out of ten (i.e. 905) were awarded funding. As in previous years, owing to budgeting constraints, SSHRC was unable to support a number of meritorious projects recommended by the selection committees.

Applications for SSHRC doctoral and postdoctoral fellowships are similarly adjudicated through annual national competitions so that only the most promising and accomplished graduate students receive Council support.

This year 2,708 Canadian graduates applied for a SSHRC doctoral fellowship. Of those, more than one in five (i.e. 612) were granted an award.

A total of 488 applications for postdoctoral fellowships were reviewed in the 1999-2000 competition. Of those, one in four (i.e. 137) were granted a postdoctoral fellowship — a prestigious award which assists Canada's newest scholars at the beginning of their research careers.

AU COEUR DU PROCESSUS D'OCTROI DES SUBVENTIONS DU CRSH

La présente publication énumère les nouvelles subventions accordées par le Conseil de recherches en sciences humaines au cours de l'année financière 1999-2000.

Le CRSH attribue ses subventions selon un processus de sélection indépendant et très concurrentiel, faisant appel à des comités d'experts qui évaluent les propositions de recherche et recommandent les projets à financer. L'examen par les pairs est à la base d'un système juste et efficace grâce auquel seules les meilleures propositions reçoivent un appui financier du CRSH.

Chaque année, les agents des programmes du CRSH recourent à près de 8 000 chercheurs du Canada et de l'étranger pour rédiger des évaluations de chacune des demandes de subventions présentées. Leurs évaluations sont soumises aux comités de sélection pour les aider à décider quelles demandes méritent d'être subventionnées.

Les évaluateurs et les membres des comités de sélection du CRSH sont des chercheurs actifs qui ont fait leurs preuves dans leur discipline ou domaine et qui sont au fait de la recherche en général.

Plus de 244 chercheurs font partie de l'un ou l'autre des 34 comités chargés d'évaluer les demandes de subventions ordinaires et stratégiques présentées aux concours annuels nationaux du CRSH.

Cette année, les comités de sélection ont examiné un total de 2 091 demandes de subventions de recherche et de subventions de recherche stratégique provenant de chercheurs d'universités canadiennes. Parmi celles-ci, seulement quatre sur dix (905) ont obtenu un appui financier. Comme dans les années passées, à cause de contraintes budgétaires, le CRSH a été dans l'impossibilité d'appuyer de nombreux projets méritoires qui ont été recommandés par les comités de sélection.

Les demandes de bourses de doctorat et postdoctorales du CRSH sont également évaluées dans le cadre de concours annuels nationaux, de sorte que seulement les étudiants les plus prometteurs et les plus doués reçoivent l'appui du Conseil.

Cette année, 2 708 étudiants canadiens de troisième cycle ont fait une demande de bourse de doctorat au CRSH. Parmi ceux-ci, plus d'un sur cinq (612) a obtenu une bourse.

Un total de 488 demandes de bourses postdoctorales ont été évaluées dans le cadre du concours de 1999-2000, parmi lesquelles une sur quatre (137) a obtenu une bourse postdoctorale — une distinction prestigieuse pour les nouveaux chercheurs du Canada qui sont au début de leur carrière.
